PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Technical writer and content developer with 10+ years creating customer-facing documentation, training material and video guides for enterprise software at DocuSign and Amdocs. Works closely with Product, Engineering and Customer Success SMEs to collect, verify and maintain technical accuracy, and tailors content to each audience, from end users to technical teams. Currently writing a docs-as-code site on Kubernetes, Docker and automation tooling using MkDocs, GitHub Pages and the Diataxis framework. A computer science background (MSc, Oracle Java certified) and hands-on development and API integration work make complex technical topics easy to understand and document accurately.
